ALLSET
INDUSTRIES

Marine services we offer

From vessel upgrades to performance optimisation, our team of technicians, engineers, and consultants delivers hands-on expertise across every stage of your project, including planning, installation, maintenance, and repair. Wherever you operate, we're ALLSET to support you.

Worldwide service and repair

We operate globally to deliver responsive service and repairs, ensuring your vessel remains operational wherever it sails.

Performance optimisation

We apply technical insight and real-world experience to improve efficiency, reduce downtime, and extend vessel performance.

Vessel design and newbuild

Whether supporting new-builds or retrofits, we provide precise technical expertise to strengthen fleet performance and ensure long-term operational readiness.

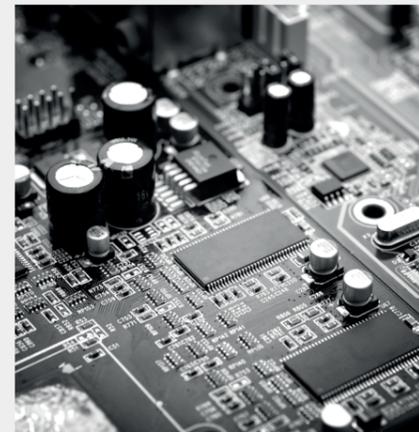

Future fuel technology

We guide and implement next-gen propulsion systems, bridging current operations with cleaner, compliant fuel solutions that are built to last.

Ship automation

We integrate smart, secure automation systems that boost safety and efficiency, built for real-world marine demands and evolving tech standards.

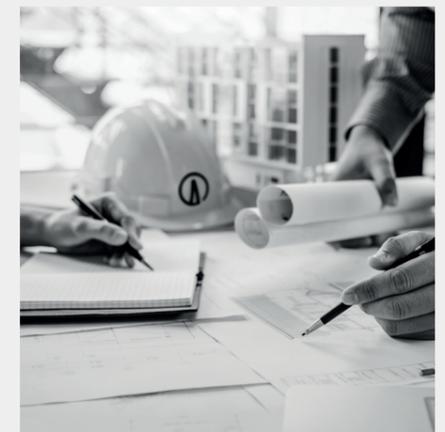

Cyber security

Our cyber security services ensure your vessel's operational technology is compliant, protected, and resilient, long after installation.

Biofouling management

We help reduce drag and operational costs through tailored anti-fouling strategies, protecting both performance and asset value.

Supervision and project management

We oversee and coordinate every stage of your project, ensuring safety, quality, and efficiency from design to delivery. With hands-on supervision and expert management, we help minimise downtime, control costs, and deliver reliable results every time.

Worldwide operations

We bring global insight and local understanding to every challenge, delivering dependable technical expertise with the speed and responsiveness you need to stay ahead.
